RACING FOR COREY ENTERTAINS MORE THAN 100 GUESTS FROM THE WISH-GRANTING ORGANIZATION DREAM WEAVERS
AT NINTH ANNUAL LUNCHEON AND RACE DAY AT PIKES PEAK INTERNATIONAL
RACEWAY (PPIR)

Fountain, CO—The Racing for Corey organization announced today that over 100 wish kids and families from the Pueblo-based, non-profit, wish-granting organization, Dream Weavers, were in attendance at the ninth annual "Racing for Corey Luncheon and Race Day at PPIR," held Saturday, August 20, 2005, at PPIR.

The day's activities kicked-off with a luncheon, followed by a "meet and greet" with Indy Racing league (IRL) driver Roger Yasukawa of Dreyer & Reinbold Racing team, Infiniti Pro Series drivers Jay Drake of Vision Racing and Jeff Simmons of Kenn Hardley Racing; and Dreyer & Reinbold Racing team co-owner and National Spokesperson for Racing For Kids®, Robbie Buhl.

Dream Factory guests enjoyed the day's on-track activities including both the Infiniti Pro Series & IRL practice sessions and qualifying with complimentary grandstand tickets courtesy of PPIR.

Racing for Corey would like to thank PPIR for their help and support again this year in facilitating this event; Robbie Buhl, drivers Roger Yasukawa, Jeff Simmons and Jay Drake for helping make this event special for the children and families of the Dream Weavers organization.

Dream Weavers is a Pueblo-based, non-profit wish-granting organization, which grants the wishes of kids suffering from life-threatening illnesses.
